

BOOKS ON LOCAL AND FAMILY HISTORY IN NUNEATON, BEDWORTH & NORTH WARWICKSHIRE

NEW & SECONDHAND BOOKS, PUBLICATIONS, DOCUMENTS IN STOCK, IN PREPARATION AND
OUT OF PRINT (AWAITING REPRINTING)

Cheques payable to:

Nuneaton Local History Group

Order from Nuneaton Local History Group
c/o: Peter Lee, PO Box 2282, Nuneaton, CV11 9ZT

Tel: 07710 233539

Email: nuneatonian@gmail.com

www.nuneatonhistory.com

Title	Author	ISBN	Description	Price	Postage & Packing	If available in E format	Price in E Format	Out of Print
The Nuneaton Historian Four issues a year.	Various	-	The magazine of the Nuneaton Local History Group, four issues a year. Well presented. Authoritative content. Glossy A4 format. Colour photos. 24 pages.	£10 Individual copies £3 each.	free	Yes	£10	In print
The History of Charity Collieries	Mike Kinder	-	The Nicholas Chamberlaine Charity in Bedworth leased land and eared royalties out of coal mining during the period 1776-1924 and whilst the Charity benefited tremendously the mine lessees sometimes found it difficult to balance the books. This is the story of their enterprise and the various characters involved in mining the Charity estate. The last mine closed in 1924 and is almost entirely forgotten today	£8	£2	No	-	In print
A History of Exhall & Hawkesbury Collieries, Bedworth	Mike Kinder	-	Mike Kinder has traced the history and various opening and closings of a collection of shafts which made up these two colliery enterprises with connections to the Whieldon family the famous Staffordshire Potters and the soap opera of their owners over four centuries. He traces their earliest history, examines the plant used and the construction of canals and mineral railways which connected them to their markets	£10	£2	No	-	In print
An Illustrated History of the Newdigate Colliery Railway	Mike Kinder	-	Mike has turned his attention to the mineral line which connected Newdigate Colliery to the main railway line and gives its history, the rolling stock used with many great	£10	£2	No	-	In Print photos for the railway and enthusiast and local historian alike.

The Nuneaton Diary (1810-1845)	John Astley		A local tradesman in Nuneaton John Astley kept a note book of events in Nuneaton during an exceptionally interesting period 1810-1845. His shop in the Market Place put him in touch with all the tittle tattle of local life, and his parish activities, brought him into contact with all the leading figures in the town. It is packed with local names of ancestors you may not think of as having a story to tell. This edition is illuminated by the editor of the Nuneaton Observer who secured the diary from destruction and printed it in the paper with lots of notes of his own. Background to flesh out some of John Astley's stories. Alfred knew old Mr. Astley in his declining years and was always keen to bring to life characters who were long dead when he was editor of the Observer between 1877-1881. Plus some notes from Peter Lee amplifying various episodes gleaned from his own researches.	£15	£2	No	-	Currently sold out, but now being revised to incorporate new material recently discovered.
Bedworth Recollections & Reflections	Anonymous	-	A former Bedworth resident still with us remembers what the old town was like during his youth. A wonderful childhood playground of coal tips, clay holes, with memories of the people in the town, plus the shops, the streets and town gossip.	£8	£2	No	-	In Print